MR. C. ZIMMERMAN, Principal

"There's nothing so kingly as kindness,
And nothing more noble than truth."

We Garfield students feel that we are in deed fortunate in having such a man as Mr Zimmerman for principal. He is not only extremely well fitted for his work from the standpoint of his loyalty but because of his enthusiasm as well. He is always ready to do all within his power to serve our school and its patrons. We are certain that the many honors Garfield brings home are due in a part at least, to his capable guidance and leadership. He is sincere in his beliefs; yet he is fair and unselfish enough to see the beliefs of others. Once he is your friend, he is always your friend! Of that you may be certain. There seems to be an innate fear of "principals"; but ours is so friendly, so kind, that some even dare to call him "Ducky"!

MISS IDA J. DOTY, Registrar

"Who so steadfast;
Who so true!"

Just take a visit to the office at Garfield; and there you will see a very businesslike and energetic person, Miss Doty. The life of a registrar is often trying—what with her disposal of tardy students and study-hall culprits and her regular office work. Miss Doty, however, meets her work with such vim and determination that nothing is left unfinished. She is always ready to give you a bit of needed information or to help you in any other way that she can; for whenever there is service needed, she willingly lends a hand. She is a true friend to both the students and the faculty. Indeed, no one could quite take the place of our Miss Doty!

EDWARD E. HYLTON

Dean and Head of Mathematics

"This earth has borne no simpler, nobler man."

Mr. Hylton, dean of boys and head of the mathematics department, is one of the most popular members of the faculty. As a teacher, he approaches perfection. Under his guidance, even the mysteries of trigonometry become comprehensible. His patience is unlimited; he is willing to explain a problem half a dozen times if need be. Outside the classroom every student counts himself fortunate in knowing, however slightly, Mr. Hylton. His kindly smile, his quiet courtesy, his unfailing good humor—these have given him a permanent place in the hearts of Garfield students.

ADELE SCHWEDES

Dean and English
"As wise as she is good."

In some schools the dean is a fearsome creature, one to be avoided as much as possible. Miss Schwedes, dean of girls, is loved by all with whom she comes into contact. Never is she seen alone in the halls; her companionship is too highly valued for that to happen. No one can long remain morose in her presence, for who is more witty, more jolly than she? Her cheerful outlook on life has helped many a discouraged student. Miss Schwedes, is however, more than a good sport: she is a real friend. Like Tusitala, that best beloved of teachers, she has left in the memories of her boys and girls a "Road of the Loving Heart" which Time can never destroy.

CLASS SONG

Tune "Me and My Shadow"

I.

Dear old Garfield, how we hate to leave you!
Thinking of it makes us feel so blue.
Oh, we'll miss you so.
We don't want to go,
But we'll have to if we want to get our sheepskins.

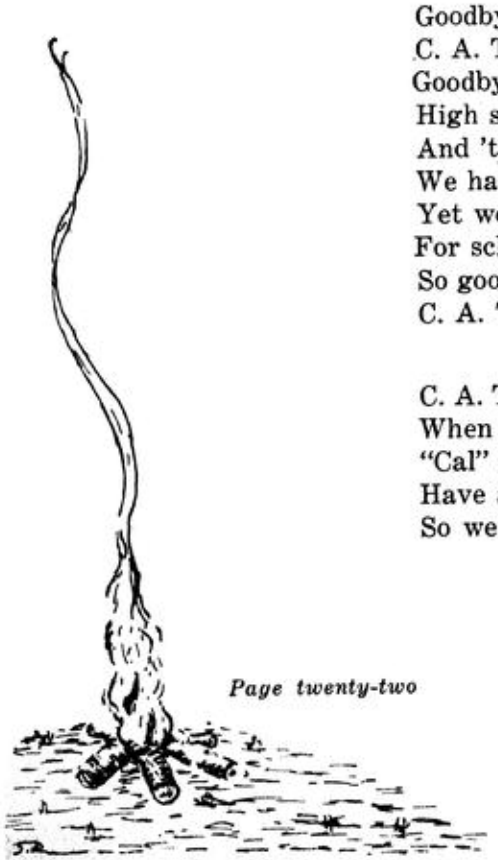
Chorus:

Goodbye, dear Garfield,
C. A. T. S. and D. O. G. S. join in this tune
Goodbye, dear Garfield,
High school days are ending all too soon,
And 'tis in senior days
We have our fun;
Yet we are blue,
For school's about done.
So goodbye, dear Garfield,
C. A. T. S. and D. O. G. S. are leaving you.

II.

C. A. T. S. and D. O. G. S. will quarrel for the last time
When they hang their sheepskins on the wall.
"Cal" and "J. T." and "Dot" and "Lo"
Have served us well we know;
So we thank them—and before we go, we'll bid you—

(Chorus)



SENIOR CLASS

President	Paul Calvert
Vice-President	James T. Jones
Secretary	Lois Bilderback
Treasurer	Dorothy Webster
Adviser	Miss Nelle Ageng

In September, 1924, Garfield welcomed us "green freshies", who were to make up the class of 1928—one of the most famous classes known in the history of the school.

The following year our number was supplemented by new students, coming from McLean Junior High School as sophomores. The class organized early in November, choosing Mrs. Frieda Bedwell as class adviser. The following officers were selected: Claude Wilcox, president; Herbert Nadzeika, vice-president; Lois Bilderback, secretary; and George Kintz treasurer. We worked hard, and so produced a very attractive float in the annual "Turkey Day Game" parade. At Christmas time, we had a very enjoyable party.

In September, 1926, we returned to school as juniors. Following the resignation of Mrs. Bedwell, we chose Miss Nelle Ageng as our adviser. On October 5, we elected Forest Simpcoe, president; Hermine Wood, vice-president; Mildred Arthur, secretary; and Hans Fischer, treasurer. After the class was well organized, the "Royal Purple" staff was chosen. Later in October, we had a rollicking good time at our Hallowe'en party, which was held in the girls' gymnasium. We had the best decorated car in the "Turkey Day" parade; so we received first prize, a Garfield pennant. In the spring of the year we had charge of the junior-senior reception, and a "grand affair" it was!

The next fall we returned to school and received the honorable title of seniors. We organized early and selected the officers: Paul Calvert, president; J. T. Jones, vice-president; Lois Bilderback, secretary; and Dorothy Webster, treasurer. Our class stood back of the "Benny" almost to the last person. During the week preceding the annual Thanksgiving game, we took charge of the pep sessions, the bonfire, and the theatre party. Our float in the Thanksgiving game parade was in the form of a huge purple and silver loving cup, bearing the traditional 7-6 Garfield score. Our social activities began with our Christmas party. Then in January we gave a dance, which was a huge success. Two months later our boys were fortunate enough to win the league basketball championship. During the first week of April, we presented the annual senior assembly in the form of a clever musical comedy. Our class has also gained noteworthy attention in athletics, for Paul Calvert was captain of the football and basketball teams in 1925 and 1925-'26, respectively; "Del" Armstrong was captain of the football team in '26 and of the baseball team in '27; and Thomas ("Red") Jones was captain of the football team in '27.

This completes our activities with the exception of those in June, which we anticipate with great enthusiasm. We feel that our success in our class work and other activities is due largely to the efforts put forth by our class adviser, Miss Ageng.

HONOR AWARDS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Honor! What visions does this word bring to mind? Character, good reputation, a keen and open mind, courage, fidelity—yes, all these and many more qualities go to make up "honor". Honor awards are given as a manifestation of honor. The attribute most thought of in the awarding is a "keen and open mind" regarding one subject in particular or all in general.

Each year at Commencement exercises acknowledgment is made of meritorious work completed by some one person throughout his career as a student of Garfield.

An award made every year is a silver loving cup given by the Boosters' Club to the boy who best represents the spirit of Garfield by his excellent work on the athletic field. This person is chosen by vote of the principal, coach, and a member of the Boosters' Club. George Van Bibber was the recipient of this cup in 1927.

In recognition of the combined characteristics of a "good sport" a cup is voted a senior boy who most nearly attains this goal. Last year the cup was presented to Warren Skeeters.

Included in athletic awards are the three medals presented to the student managers who assist in handling the athletic equipment during the season. The seniors receiving medals in the previous class were: Robert Grosjean, football; Carl Meister, basketball; and Stanton Meister, baseball and track.

There is open to aspiring boys, the Rea scholarship to Rose Polytechnic Institute. Harry Loving was awarded this scholarship, which is made by the vote of the faculty.

The Tri Kappa sorority bestows a sum of $250 a year for use by a student wishing to continue his studies. This was awarded for the first time to Alberta Sartain.

Each year a chemistry student writes a term paper which is entered in a National contest. We are proud of Avola Watkins who won second place in one division, and Clarke Engleman who won second in another; also James Kelly and Robert McPeak who received honorable mention.

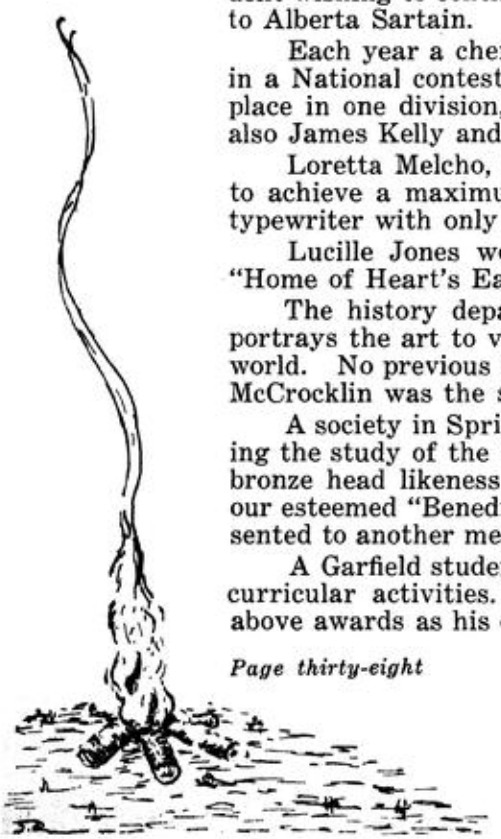
Loretta Melcho, a 1927 graduate, is the only student in Terre Haute to achieve a maximum speed of 1245 words for fifteen minutes on the typewriter with only two errors.

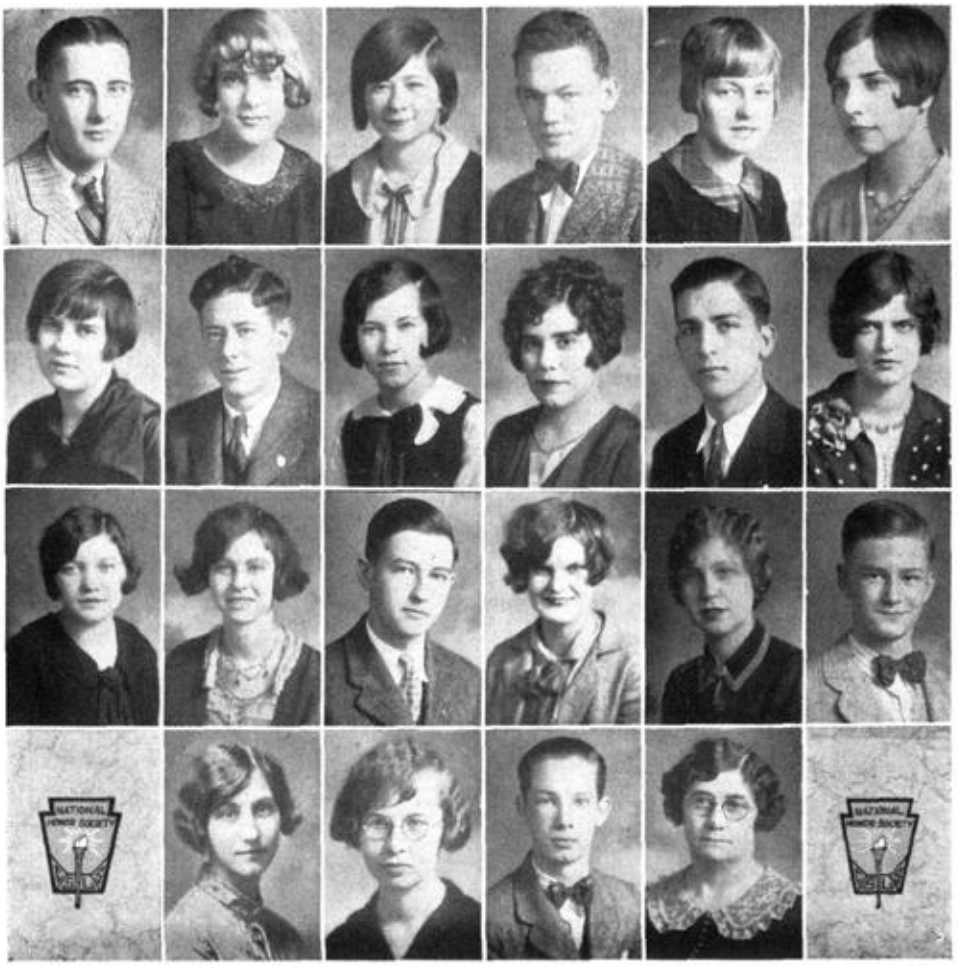
Lucille Jones won second place in a state poster contest, and her "Home of Heart's Ease" was sent to a territorial contest.

The history department presents a medal to the students who best portrays the art to vision future possibilities for our country and for the world. No previous hint is given as to the recipient of this medal. Alice McCrocklin was the sixth presentee, awarded in 1927.

A society in Springfield, Illinois, organized for the purpose of furthering the study of the life of Lincoln, presents to a winner of each school a bronze head likeness of that noble man. Last year it was presented to our esteemed "Benedictus" editor, Chester Stock, and this year it was presented to another member of our class, Ruth Martin.

A Garfield student receives ample reward for excelling in one or more curricular activities. Each student should strive to receive one of the above awards as his own.





National Honor Society

No honor conferred by Garfield High School excels that represented by the National Honor Society. It represents the fundamental objectives for which schools are instituted and gives recognition to those who have attained most nearly the desired ends. Other honors at the disposal of the school are only partial in the sense that they recognize specialized ability, skill, or talent, but this Society looks upon education as a total product measured by four dimensions: scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The students who are elected to this Society by the faculty are honored for the attainments which they have already made and for the promise they contain of continued excellence in the cherished ideals of Garfield High School.

The following members of the class of 1928 were elected to membership in this Society:

Mildred Arthur
Carl Bartholome
Louise Boling
Horace Capps
Gladys Cox
Jack Duncan
Warren Everett
Marion Ferguson
Bonnie Frazier
Leslie Geisert
Elizabeth Jones
James T. Jones
Geraldine Manson

Synopsis

Act I.

Scene: Living room of the Ingals' home.
Time: Five o'clock in the afternoon of December 23d.

Act II.

Time: Evening of December 29. The curtain falls to indicate the passing of a half hour.

Act III.

Time: December 30.

An entertaining play, a well-selected cast, and an able director—these were the elements contributing to the success of the play, "The Goose Hangs High," which was presented Thursday and Friday, November tenth and eleventh, by the senior class. Each performance was witnessed by a large and appreciative audience.

Chester Stock , as Bernard Ingals, remained to the end the self-sacrificing father. His work in the last act was especially commendable. Kathron Silverthorn, as Eunice, his wife, made a most successful debut. The part of the grandmother was taken by Frances Zaring, who handled it in a manner worthy of a professional. Stuart Combs, as Bradley Ingals, kept the audience laughing with his clever remarks. His twin sister, Lois was charmingly portrayed by Gladys Cox. Dagmar Carrol, Roseanna Vallely, and Hugh Ingals, Warren Everett, the two lovers, offered to give up their plans for immediate marriage in order to tide the family over the financial crisis. Lyle Nearpass, as Leo Day, and Rhodes Barbarick, as Elliot Kimberly, two politicians, played their parts exceedingly well. Estella Brewer delighted the audience with her realistic portrayal of Julia Murdock, mother of the discontented young Ronald Murdock, Hans Fischer. James Jones as Noel Derbay, a boyhood friend of Bernard Ingals, did a very effective bit of acting. Dinner was announced by the maid, Rhoda, acted by Maurine Fritts. Clem, a friend of Lois, played by William McCaslin, had a speaking part only and made no appearance on the stage.

The senior class feels that the play was a great success, well worthy of all the effort expended upon it.

One of the largest activities at Garfield High School is the publishing of "The Benedictus". It is the ambition of every class in its senior year to publish successfully a good "Benny". The class of '28 early last fall nominated a committee, which, with the aid of the faculty advisers, selected the "Benedictus" staff for 1928.

At our first meeting Mr. Zimmerman impressed upon us the great responsibility that had fallen to us. He also pointed out the main difficulties that come between a "Benny" staff and a successful "Benedictus". Our drive for senior subscriptions began about the first of December. We finally got 95 per-cent of the seniors to subscribe. Without this amount of subscriptions from the seniors we may not have a "Benny". When the spring term came, we waged an intensive campaign for subscriptions from underclassmen.

After the subscription campaigns were successful, we began work on the "Benny" itself. Pictures were taken, and assignments for writeups were made. During March we held our campaign for advertisements.

Every member of the staff has worked hard and willingly; and we feel more than repaid for our work. Most of the success of this year's "Benny" lies with our competent advisers. They have spent their time to aid and direct us in order that we might give you a book that we are proud of. At this place, too, the staff wishes to thank all who have helped make this annual a success. We wish to thank individually and collectively the merchants, the student body, and the faculty for their co-operation, without which we would have failed.

Classy And Talented Seniors

C. A. T. S.? You bet we are—and yet we're not! Every senior girl is a C. A. T. S., but none of us is a cat. We're C. and T., but maybe we're talking in riddles. To make a long story short we're classy and talented—and what could the "S" mean but seniors?

After a lot of planning, over backyard fences as well as other secret places, the senior girls voted themselves into a body with a definite intention of making themselves well known—and they did. They elected Laura Tribble, Louise Boling and Bonnie O. Frazier to the offices of president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

The first thing we did to make ourselves popular with students and faculty was to choose Miss Nelle Ageng for our adviser. We certainly made no mistake at the beginning! Miss Ageng, may we extend our hearty thanks? Here's to our comrade and adviser!

The C. A. T. S. followed up this marvelous beginning with other successes. Not wanting to lead a long-drawn-out, humdrum existence, we set our initiative after something, and like the mounted police, we got it. Our brilliant idea took the form of a highly decorated car in Garfield's pre-Thanksgiving day parade. At least, we let people know there were such beings as C. A. T. S. Another of our activities before the Turkey Day rush was a snappy program at the Booster Club meeting.

You never saw any monograms like ours, did you? Our main cry is "We're individual."

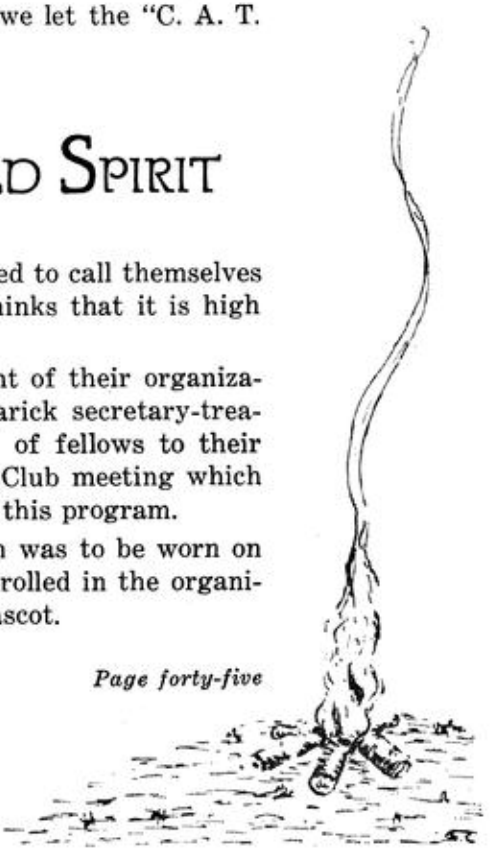
We're sorry we kept you waiting so long before we let the "C. A. T. S." out of the bag.

Defenders Of Garfield Spirit

The senior boys organized in November and decided to call themselves the D. O. G. S. The editor, being a "D. O. G. S", thinks that it is high time that we divulge the meaning.

The D. O. G. S. elected Carl Bartholome president of their organization, John Swander vice-president, and Rhodes Barbarick secretary-treasurer. They proved themselves a very loyal bunch of fellows to their school. They presented a program for the Boosters' Club meeting which was very successful. Stuart Combs was in charge of this program.

The boys chose as their emblem a bull dog which was to be worn on their nifty senior sweaters. About sixty boys are enrolled in the organization, which has J. T. Jones' dog, "Topsy," as its mascot.



CALENDAR

SEPTEMBER

7—Registration! Talk about jams!

8—First classes! If we have lost all we've ever learned, where have we lost it, and where can we get more?

9—Plenty of raw material. Colored glasses needed to prevent blindness from the green.

12—To work in earnest! Even freshies have to study. Teachers look worn. Could it be the effect of their boat ride?

13—School dismisses at noon. It's so hot the heat affects our brain matter.

14—Half days. Programs so mixed that even the dignified seniors wonder where to go next.

15—Lost—by a freshie — the third hour. Don't we sorta miss the class of '27? Boohoo!

16—Great excitement in gym. Latest dance steps even tempt the staid and stately faculty.

19—Three cheers! Miss Latta is back.

20—Glee Club meeting. Hallelujah! Plenty of music (is that what it was?)—in the auditorium. Hi-Y trip to Cataract.

21—School is about settled. There are quite a few freshies on the "epidemic course".

20—Is Lyle Nearpass ill? Naw, that's just his new jacket he won as a result of the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

23—Pep Meeting! Enough noise and pep to beat Sullivan—maybe.

24—Double header football game. Garfield beaten by Sullivan 13-6. Too bad! Try again.

26—Did everyone know Frank Hawkins has been west? He has visited Taylorville. Ask Miss Harris.

27—Senior meeting! From all appearances Garfield is mainly seniors.

28—What's the attraction in the west hall? Just the seniors' election day. Yea! rah! Calvert for president.

29—Blue Thursday?—No—Blue Tri Thursday! Also Hi-Y assembles the 3rd hour.

30—Weird sounds from the auditorium. Boys' and girls' glee clubs practice the "Wreck of the Hesperus."

OCTOBER

3—Blue Tri round up in girls' gym. Eskimo pies 'n everything.

4—Senior meeting! Greetings! Does Garfield know we have a real president?

CLASS PROPHECY

Madam Seezit-all

Crystal Gazing a Specialty

One Flight Up

By the murky light of the red lamp I glanced half-fearfully, half-amusedly, at the bit of pasteboard which had lured me to this shadowy room, heavy with incense and the odors of the East. A black slave girl appeared before me as if by magic. Noiselessly the heavy curtains parted; she beckoned me to enter.

As I passed over the threshold, the curtains glided together behind me. A dozen paces before me sat Mme. Seezit-All. Before her, on a low table, glowed a crystal ball, into which she was gazing intently. Her piercing black eyes brought me to an awkward stop.

"I-I want to find out what the class of '28 will be doing in ten years," I stammered.

Silently she motioned me to the seat opposite her. "The stars are unusually favorable today," she murmured. "Ten years hence I see—George Campbell and Carlyle Eldredge are tying for honors in a marathon sleeping contest.

"Charles Cline, Ziegfeld's successor in the theatrical world, has chosen Florence Albin as leading lady in his latest musical comedy hit, "Way Back There in 1928". She will be assisted by a chorus composed of Dulcie Cook, Margaret Houston, Mary Unison, Martha Iahn, Viola Hardesty, Emma Burton, and Kathryn Weinbrecht.

"Chester Stock, world famous chemist in the Weissmeyer cheese factory, has recently discovered a new chemical odorant for limberger cheese. He has appropriately named it paramido-alpha-phenol-tri-nitro-di-benzoic acid. It has the good feature of making limberger odorful without the

THE JUNIOR CLASS

President	Richard Richmond
Vice-President	Madonna O'Rear
Secretary-Treasurer	Arthur Reinking
Faculty Adviser	Miss Norma Froeb

The juniors got off on the right foot this year. They organized early and immediately began plans for the year's activities. The first event was the Hallowe'en party which was held in the girls' gym Hallowe'en night.

Next came the float. The junior float was awarded first prize in the Garfield parade.

The class colors were chosen, orchid and old rose being the ones selected. A queer little affair is connected with the color selection. The juniors and seniors selected theirs the same evening, and by a strange coincidence both classes chose old rose and silver. The juniors gave up to the upper classmen, and selected the present colors. At later meetings the class chose as its motto "Deeds, not words," and the sweet pea as its flower.

Affairs were very quiet until time came to select the junior rings; then things began to happen. Everyone was excited, and when the rings arrived, the first of April, there was not a person in school who could compare with a one of our juniors, so we thought.

The arrival of the rings was followed closely by the junior assembly. It was a comic one, the participants being members of a country school. It was a big success.

Plans were soon started for the junior-senior banquet and junior prom which was held June 1.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

This year the sophomore class, consisting of two hundred and sixteen boys and girls, is the largest in the school. It is composed of new students from McLean and those who were freshmen at Garfield last year.

Class organization took place early in the fall term, and Miss Helen Reitzel was chosen class adviser.

The sophomores agreed upon rose and green as their class colors, the sweet pea as their flower, and "Not at the top, but climbing" as their motto.

A Valentine party was given on February 13, in the girls' gymnasium. After games were played and a program was given, refreshments of sandwiches, ice-cream, and cake were served. An enjoyable time was had by all.

Ernest Thompson, Carl Price, James Sullivan, Clarence Kirchener, Dennis Cummins, Robert Hammond, and Paul Kuhn brought honor to the class in athletics. The interclass basketball tournament was won by the sophomores. The final score was 21-16.

The class of 1930 hopes to make a name for itself at Garfield.

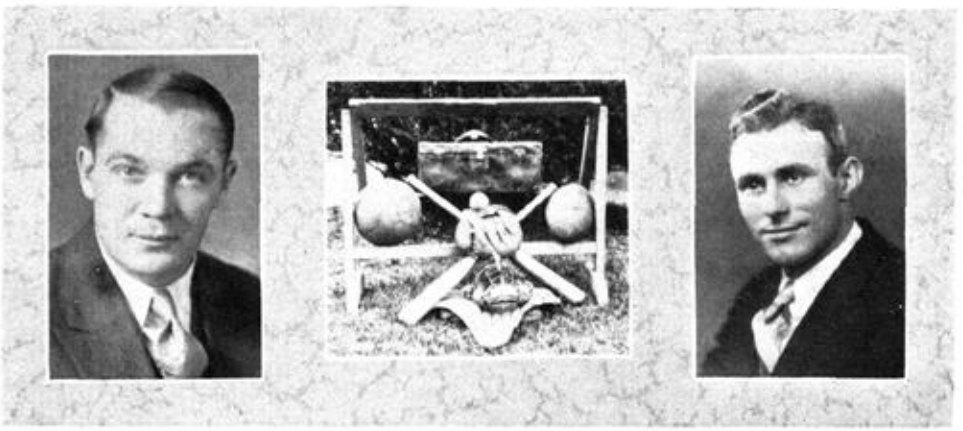
Athletics



In looking over the past year, it is just, that those who are largely responsible for victories won should be lauded. These are the coaches. Regardless of the number of games won or lost, these men who have pointed Garfield athletes forward are responsible for the place the Purple now occupies in athletics.

The man who has untiringly drilled the boys for perfection, the individual who has put the real punch into the game is our own Coach Pike. It has been only a few years since he was making a name for himself in athletics at Franklin College. Pike's first act was one of the most important for any coach. He captivated his men. His friendly personality served as a magnet to attract friends to him. Then he taught his men football. Yes, he taught them lots of it, and urged his men to do things. Those under him soon perceived in their master the qualities that demand and deserve loyalty, and thus were inspired to achieve. Pike believed in demonstrating his points, and it was no uncommon sight to see him step in and pile up a whole section of the varsity line. During the four years that he has been with us, he has produced football teams which have not been scored on by any of the Wiley crews. Mr. Pike is also the baseball coach, and it will be for the good of the Purple that he will be with us next year.

He knows basketball. He has played lots of it. He can teach basketball. He can size up his men, and he is well liked by them. Those statements tell you all about Coach "Jim" Conover in whose hands the Purple basketball and track have been placed. Only a few years ago he pranced on the hardwood as a member of the quintet that represented Garfield. "Jim" is also an A1 track coach. He won first place in the 100 and 220 yard dashes in one state meet, giving Garfield third place. He has also represented Rose Polytechnic and Indiana State Normal in athletics. Coach Conover is well versed in various branches of sports, a star performer, a good teacher, and a strict disciplinarian. His personality and the results of his coaching won the admiration of all Garfield students and fans.

TURKEY DAY GAME

The Purple closed her gridiron season November 25.

To the uninitiated this means but little; but to the thousands of hoarse voiced fans who witnessed the annual struggle, it meant that the Purple, fighting every minute of the game, had retained the city championship won the previous year. The history of three years before repeated itself when the game ended in a scoreless tie. The Garfield team took the field with the odds slightly against them. Outweighed by ten pounds to the man, the Purple fought an uphill battle against the heavier Wiley line.

The best of the bleacher seats were taken long before the game started, while many people were under the cover of the stands. An average size Thanksgiving Day crowd seemed to be present. The Purple warriors took the field first, escorted by three Puritans typifying the "Spirit of 7-6." The Garfield band was followed by several other players carrying purple and white balloons concealed in blankets. At a given signal these were thrown to the breezes.

The Red Streaks were led onto the field by the Wiley band releasing red and white ballons which mingled in the air with the purple and white ones. As the teams left the field for final instructions, they were cheered by the brilliant crowd, gay in colors and with high spirits, eagerly waiting for the annual historic struggle. After the Tech band had made its entrance, the three drum majors saluted and gathered around the melting pot, a coming tradition between the two schools, with the Indian and the Puritan. The colors of Garfield and Wiley were stirred into the pot, emerging as the American flag. The flag was hoisted on the flagpole while the Tech band played the national anthem.

With a heavy, rain-soaked field, Garfield and Wiley lined up for battle for supremacy. It seemed to be McCabe's day. He was the bright light of the Purple offense, gaining yardage on each vicious plunge through the Wiley line. Pike's proteges evidenced their ability during the opening minutes of the game when Jones slipped a pass to Reinking which resulted in a 40 yard gain. Both teams battled stubbornly back and forth in the center of the field throughout the first two periods. The Red Streaks chilled the hearts of the Purple supporters for the first time when Joey Ryan snagged a pass from midfield and placed the ball on Garfield's eight forty yard line. However, the Wiley crew made the mistake of passing and lost the oval by a pass over the goal.

FOOTBALL

Although the Garfield team did not present such a pleasing record in the number of games won and lost, the season of 1927 was one in which every man gave his best for the game and for the old Purple and White. The season opened with an unsuccessful attempt to even up the defeat handed by Sullivan the previous year. In the following game the Purple gridders ran rampant over the unexperienced Midland eleven, 48-0. As the season advanced, the squad acquired both skill and experience, and on the Saturday following the game, they defeated Tech. This was the first evident proof of the improvement that Coach Pike had made in his grid machine. The victory over Tech was the only city-series victory for the Purple during the season. A gallant stand was made by the team in the Clinton tilt, but Garfield left the field with the short end of a 7-0 score. The homecoming game was an encounter which resulted in a 19-6 victory over Garfield's out-of-the-city rival, Robinson. One week after the victory over Robinson, the Purple Warriors journeyed to the Capitol City to cross swords with the Cathedral crew. The result of the fray was disastrous, we losing 6-0. In the annual struggle Garfield fought the Wiley band to a 0-0 tie, retaining the city championship won the previous year. Whatever may be said of the record made during the season of 1927, the fact remains that there will be a number of men with football experience and knowledge ready to fight for the Purple next fall.

The Lee Goodman Trophy was awarded to Bill Nichols as the most valuable football player during the season of 1927. The trophy was awarded as the result of the voting of the coach, the principal, and team as a unit. Nichols has been with the Purple for three years, and during this time has been accredited with the distinction of being in the fracas almost every minute of every game. He first gave for the Purple the thing called "Fight". In doing so he inspired his teammates to fight harder. And last he was given a position on the team which called for skill and wisdom, and he filled it.

The bullet-like passes of Captain "Red" Jones were largly responsible for the points scored by Garfield. "Red" will be missed greatly next year, for he was always to be depended upon, and proved that more than loud talk is needed to produce quality. Hodges, chief signal barker for the Purple, played a fast and hard brand of ball all season. Because of his spirit and fight he was chosen for several mythical elevens. Hodges did most of the punting, and his boots averaged about 45 yards for the season. Garfield was honored by the selection of George Popoff for left tackle on the all-valley team. Popoff showed up exceptionally well in tearing through the opponent's line to throw their backs for losses.

Hodges, Jones, Nichols, Keller, Nadzeika, Simpcoe, and McCabe were all in their last year competition. Reinking, Hylton, Popoff, Humphreys Carter, Hammond, Fisher, and McCoy have been prepared through training for future tilts and will be the nucleus around which the team will be formed.

GARFIELD 6—SULLIVAN 13

In the first game of the season Coach Pike's Purple Gridders struck a snag against the experienced Sullivan crew. The game was well played in spite of the fact that it was the first game for both teams, the Purple line holding firmly in true mid-season form. During the first quarter Garfield battled with her opponents on even terms, but with the second quarter began the Sullivan march. A long pass from Carty to Pickell wound up their "Big Parade". Another march was started with the same disastrous results, Cochran carrying the ball over the line. In the second frame Garfield came back strong with a series of line plunges, holding the ball for the most of the time in Sullivan territory. Early in the third quarter Garfield received a poor punt from Sullivan, followed by a nice pass from McCabe to Humphreys. "Billy" Nichols had the honor of scoring the first touchdown for the Purple, although he failed in his try for extra point.

GARFIELD 48—MIDLAND 0

Every man on the squad was used by Coach Pike in submerging Midland with a deluge of touchdowns, end runs, passes, and line rushes. The Midland players struggled bravely, but left the field without chalking up a score during the four periods of uneven play. Numerous substitutions were made during the game by Pike, to get a line on his reserve material. The touchdowns were the result of straight football, Nichols, Hodges, and McCoy each being credited with two markers apiece. The last touchdown of the first half came when McCabe slipped through the Midland crew to place the oval safely over the line. During the second half, Fisher, sub end, intercepted a pass and raced unopposed for 55 yards to aid in piling up the score. Hodges did most of the punting, getting one off for 60 yards.

GARFIELD 19—GERSTMEYER 0

The season's first city-series victory for the Purple ! Brilliant dashes by Jones, McCabe, and Hodges for touchdowns! Splendid interference! Tech's desperate aerial attack with the cautious Garfield's backs ready to break up their passes!

That is the review of the Garfield-Tech battle staged in the Memorial Stadium, October 15. The game was rather slow, and fumbles were frequent on both teams. Although there were no outstanding stars, the Garfield backfield worked as a clock. McCabe, Nichols, and Jones took turns in carrying the ball down to field, after which McCabe plunged across the line for the first marker. In the second quarter Keller picked up a fumble and was not stopped until on Tech's 19 yard line. Hodges pulled a quarter back sneak and placed the score at 12-0. Following a slow third period, McCabe brought the ball within 3 yards of the goal. "Red" Jones went across for the final touchdown and kicked goal. A Tech rally, in which caution was thrown to the winds and passes were thrown everywhere, was unsuccessful. The gun ended the fray before any damage was done.

GARFIELD 0—CLINTON 7

A game with few thrills but lots of hard fighting resulted in a 7-0 defeat for the Purple. Cogan passed, ran, and kicked, doing nice work in each department. Garfield made immediate plans to put the skids under the Clinton overhead attack, and was successful in that few were completed. However, the Purple Gridders, fighting all the time, could not prevent Cogan from stepping over their goal line during the third quarter. The game was marked by no spectacular brand of football on the part of either team. Fumbles were rather frequent, but the general playing of the Purple was commendable.

GARFIELD 19—ROBINSON 6

The Fifth Annual Homecoming was celebrated with a football game at the expense of Robinson. The game was marked by no spectacular brand of football on the part of either team. During the first quarter Garfield battled with their out-of-the-city rivals on even terms. Soon after the first quarter, Nichols and Hodges passed, wiggled, and plowed their way down the field for the first touchdown of the game. "Nick" was stopped a few yards from the line when he attempted to run around end for the extra point. A short time before the half, the Jones-to-Hodges passing combination got under way, and "Hodgy" was credited with six points. Following a scoreless third period, pass after pass was completed, and Musgraves slipped over for the lone Robinson marker. After receiving the ball on the kick-off, Garland's eleven became a giant ramming machine which pounded its way down the entire length of the field, Red Jones going over the line for the final touchdown. Bill Jones was in the center of every play, squirming through the Robinson line upon several occasions. The yardage made by the Sucker crew was mostly the result of the efforts of Musgraves.

GARFIELD 0—CATHEDRAL 6

The tough breaks of the game were solely responsible for the 6-0 defeat of Garfield at the hands of Cathedral. Following a scoreless first period, Cathedral marched 43 yards to chalk up the lone touchdown of the game. Late in the last quarter, Keller started a last minute rally by recovering a fumble on Cathedral's 40 yard line. After completing a 35 yard forward pass from Hodges to Humphreys, the final gun called an end to the struggle with Garfield in possession of the ball on the one-foot line.

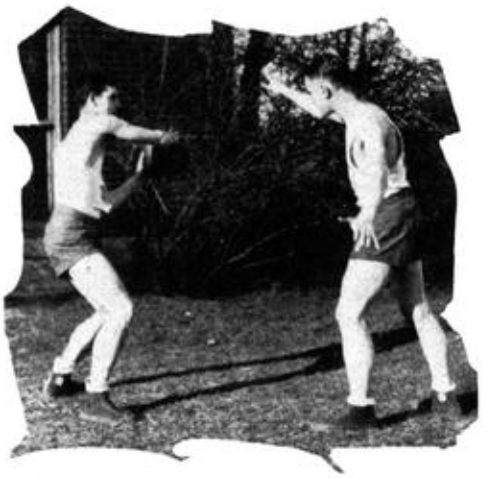
BASKETBALL

A flying Purple five won for themselves a place in Garfield's basketball hall of fame when they won the city championship and the sectional tou r n a m e n t. This position was earned only by a driving whirlwind finish. Earlier in the season the winning of games came in streaks. A few games would be won, and then a few would be lost. Too much credit can not be given coach Conover, who for the past two years, has tutored two city championship teams.

Maurice Hodges was awarded the Booster Club trophy at the close of the season for being considered the most valuable player on the Garfield hardwood. The trophy was awarded as the result of the voting of the coaches, the principal and the Booster Club. The last game of the season marked the final appearance of captain Hodges. He was named by many coaches for different mythical quintets because of the consistancy of his playing. Hodges' place will be hard to fill, but there is a wealth of material that can be used from this year's reserve squad.

Captain Hodges led the Garfield scorers with 186 points. Goebel followed with a total of 140 points, while Wheeler was third with 110 to his credit. At the close of the season, Wheeler was elected captain of next year's squad. Letters were awarded to Hylton, Bartholome, Goebel, Wheeler, Nichols, Hodges, Jones, Reinking, McCoy, and Cummins. With Nichols, Hodges, Jones, and Bartholome lost to the squad, four places will have to be filled from the reserve material. The remaining men will form the nucleus around which a flashy and experienced team will probably be built next winter.

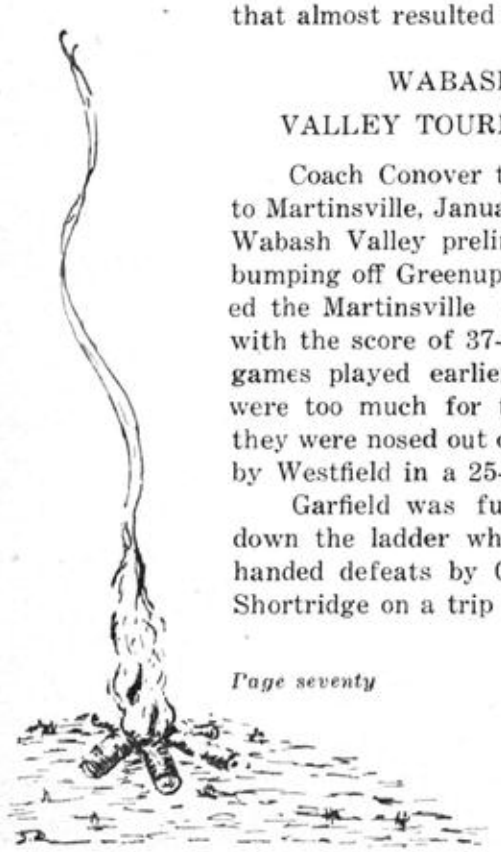
The Purple netmen were first exposed to the fire of the enemy sharpshooters this season on December 9, when the strong Clinton crew defeated Garfield, 17-16. History repeated itself when Clinton nosed out the Purple by the narrow margin of one point, as they had done the previous year. The game was not an overtime, but Garfield bombarded the netting until the final gun.



One week from the following Saturday, Garfield was outclassed by the pass work, shooting, and ranginess of the Princeton five. Garfield was merely playing against a more powerful and more seasoned quintet. In the following game Tommy Dorman's Concannon five were defeated by a score of 23-12. The game was slow and uneventful most of the time. This was the last fracas before the tangle with Wiley, December 30.

In the first game of the city series the Conovermen encountered Wiley and walked away with a big end of a 29-26 count. Hodges made high scoring honors by sending six field goals through the hoop. The Wiley crew was crippled when Garrell's services were lost by the personal foul route. Garfield was doped to win, but they faced a team that fought until the final gun.

Some few days after this occasion, Sullivan sent her basketball team to Terre Haute where they were downed 20-13, by the Purple Eagles. About this time disaster descended upon the Purple aggregation. Upon playing Gerstmeyer the Conovermen suffered their third defeat of the season by a three-point margin. The score read 22-19 in favor of Tech. Near the end of the game the Purple staged one of her celebrated attacks that almost resulted in a last minute win.



WABASH VALLEY TOURNAMENT

Coach Conover took his team to Martinsville, January 21, for the Wabash Valley prelims, and after bumping off Greenup, 28-19, handed the Martinsville crew a jolt with the score of 37-21. The two games played earlier in the day were too much for the boys and they were nosed out of the tourney by Westfield in a 25-26 upset.

Garfield was further shoved down the ladder when they were handed defeats by Cathedral and Shortridge on a trip to the Capitol

City. That this reverse was good for the team's future, however, was evident in their later games. Returning to their home floor, the Purple netters showed a complete reversal of form when they took Normal into camp by a convincing score of 40-32. On the following day Garfield easily demonstrated her superiority in a rough-and-ready affair with Clay City. The accurate marksmanship of Hodges, Goebel, and Wheeler, and the guarding of Hylton was too much for the Clay City crew.

One week after the Clay City game, the Purple Eagles took on the task of conquering Robinson. In the 25-19 battle, the Conovermen used a slow defense but held the edge throughout. On the following day Garfield suffered a 40-38 defeat at the hands of Washington of Indianapolis. The game was close and hard fought, and it was not until the gun was fired that the result was certain. Greencastle proved to be another snag to the Purple hopes. Garfield made numerous shots of the tough luck variety and was forced to journey homeward with the short end of a 38-29 marking.

STATE TOURNEY

And then came that driving, whirlwind finish in which the Purple won four successive battles in the sectional tourney. Riley offered the first opposition and was disposed of by a 20-16 count, followed by an 18-11 victory over Otter Creek. In the last game of the semi-finals the Purple Eagles had little trouble in defeating the West Terre Haute team. The count stood at 21-4. Tech's crafty cagers were handed a jolt in the sectional finals when the Purple five bottled the Martinmen's offense and passed and shot their way to a 23-16 victory. By annexing this scalp, Garfield earned the right to carry on in the regional tourney at Bloomington. But in the first game at Bloomington, Garfield was nosed out of the tourney by Brazil, Wabash Valley champions, 20-29. The Purple gave battle every inch of the way in the hard fought finish of a splendid net race.

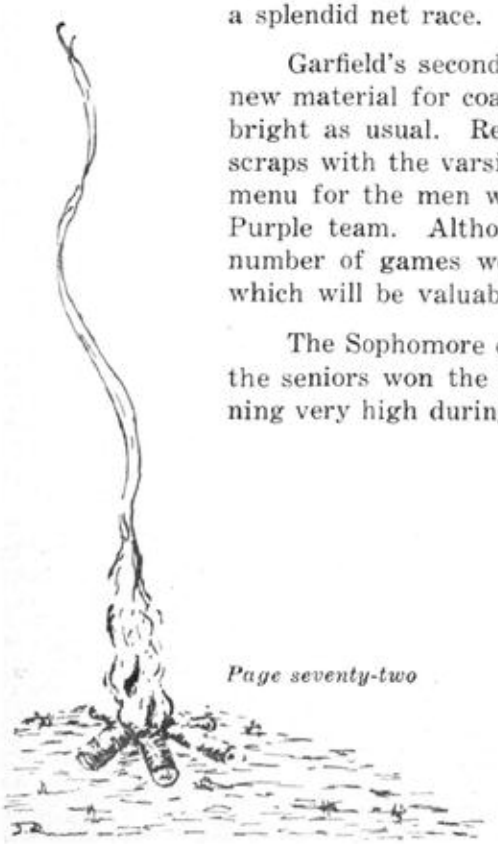
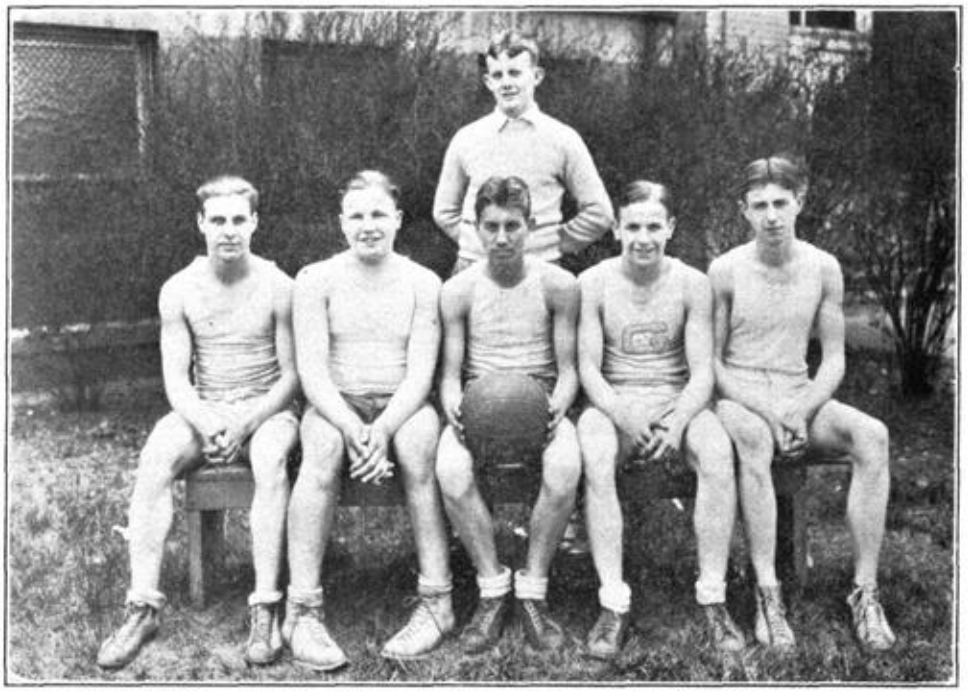
Garfield's second team basketball squad always has been a source of new material for coach Conover, and the outlook for next year seems as bright as usual. Regular practice under the instruction of coach Pike, scraps with the varsity, and several hard-fought curtain raisers filled the menu for the men who will, next year, be fighting for positions on the Purple team. Although not presenting such a pleasing record in the number of games won and lost, the second team acquired experience which will be valuable in the coming year.

The Sophomore class won the interclass basketball tournament, while the seniors won the league contest. Interest in these contests was running very high during the entire season.





BASEBALL AND TRACK

At the time the Benny went to press, neither the baseball nor the track season was over. Whether Garfield will finish in a high position in the 1928 baseball race for honors, will depend upon the experience so far received, for there are only two letter men left from last year's nine. Out of the first five games, three of them were victories. In the catching department Garfield will be most strongly fortified with Captain Nichols, while McCabe is the only man left from last year's group of moundsmen.

For the first time in years Garfield has had a track team which could score points and win meets consistently. In the first, three meets, all triangular meets, the Purple took first place honors. Garfield's opponents in the first meet were Brazil and Bloomington, in the second Wiley and Petersburg, and in the third Tech and Wiley. The city meet resulted in a one-sided victory for Coach Jim Conover's thin-clads. In the Greencastle relays Garfield won fifth place. This position is nothing to their discredit considering the teams against which they contended. A telegraphic meet was held May 2 with Arlington of Chicago. The two teams ran off the events at their schools and telegraphed the results to each other. Garfield was the winner. In the opinion of Coach Conover, the season was far from being unsuccessful.

WEARERS OF THE G

All boys earning their first letter in any sport receive a silver grey slip-over or coat sweater trimmed in purple. The same award is made in the senior year with service stripes. A star is given for captaincy. This ruling was made by the Central Athletic Board of Terre Haute. The duties of the board are varied. It decides the eligibility of contestants, acts on protests of teams, and performs other duties connected with the contests.

The letter men who are now in the school are: McCabe, Hodges, Roby, Keller, Nadzeika, T. Jones, Nichols, Hylton, Bartholome, Calvert, Lough, Stnons, Knowles, Humphreys, D. Armstrong, Reinking, Wheeler, Carter, Simpcoe, Goebel, Cummins, Fisher, McCoy, Popoff, Hammond, J. T. Jones, and Sullivan.

POINT SYSTEM

Point System is an organization composed of about one hundred fifty peppy girls. The various sports engaged in this year are soccer, basketball, volleyball, clog dancing, high vaulting, fieldball, and swimming.

An original show, "Hello Betsy", was given March twenty-third and April fifth. The cast was as follows:

Betsy Dutton	Maxine Reed
Yvonne Croxton	Margaret Griffith
John Raynor	Mary Emma Gossom
Sir Algernon Covington	Elizabeth Serban
Amaryllis	Audrey Douglas
Ward Fulmar	Margaret Lawson
Clarke Woodrow	Wynema Cooper

HOME COMING

On Friday evening, November 4, Garfield was the scene of much merrymaking, for about four hundred fifty of her old "grads" had returned. Crowds wandered through the artistically decorated halls, lingering at the booths where excellent punch was served. The nursery, the sewing room in disguise, was also a popular stopping place. Several of the senior girls served as nursemaids for the ten visiting babies. The crowds then broke up, every one hurrying to the room where his class was to meet. The old classes elected their directors and paid their class dues. The auditorium, decorated in purple and white, was the next scene of interest.

Before the business of the year was dealt with, the president read several letters and telegrams of regret from alumni members. As it happened, the following officers were re-elected for the coming year:

President ..... Chester Smith '14
Vice-President ..... Ethel Ray '13
Secretary ..... Josephine Moon '24
Treasurer ..... Leo Geiger '26

LITTLE THEATRE PRIZE PLAY

"THE LAST OF THE LOWRIES"

A One-Act Play
by
Paul Green

The Characters

Cumbra Lowrie, the aged and palsied mother of the Lowries, Marion Ferguson
Jane, her daughter ..... Ruth Martin
Mayno, Cumbra's daughter-in-law ..... Estella Brewer
Henry Berry Lowrie, last of the outlaw gang ..... Rhodes Barbarick.

Garfield High School again "brought home the bacon" by winning a very beautiful silver loving cup in the statewide, one-act tournament held in Indianapolis, on December the sixteenth. The praise all belongs to the Garfield Players and their excellent coach, Miss Jewel Ferguson. Walter D. Hickman, dramatic editor of the Indianapolis Times and one of the contest judges, said that last year he was astounded at the acting of the Garfield students, but that this year he was stunned! It is, therefore, very easily seen why we are so proud of our dramatic club people. Ruth Martin, one of the players, was highly praised for her "piece of nearly perfect acting." She received a little book of essays, the first prize for the best acting done by a girl. Now Garfield has firmly established herself as a real competitor in the field of dramatic art. The other schools of the state have come to fear competing with a school that produces such near-professional actors!

The play presented by the Garfield Players was "The Last of the Lowries," a tragic drama built around the true story of the last of the gang of Croatan outlaws who lived in Robeson County, North Carolina, in the year of 1874. The scene was the rough old Lowrie home in Schuffletown, a swamp region in Robeson County. The part of Mayno, Cumbra's daughter-in-law, was very skillfully acted by Estella Brewer. Ruth Martin was perfect in her role of Jane, Cumbra's daughter. She sustained her emotion throughout the entire play, even crying actual tears at times. Marion Ferguson did excellent work in her portrayal of Cumbra Lowrie, the old and palsied mother. This part was very difficult, but Marion was wonderful in her impersonation. Rhodes Barbarick as Henry Berry Lowrie, last of the outlaw gang, caught the true spirit of his part and acted it accordingly. He enacted perfectly the love scene of a son bidding goodbye to his mother. The vividness with which the tragic life of the hunted outlaws was portrayed and the many heartbreaking scenes of the play—when Jane brought in the mud-daubed and bloody clothes which told that Mayno's husband had been hunted down and killed at last; the pitiful attempt to hide the truth from the aged Cumbra; the coming of Henry and Jane's endeavor to make him return to safety; the farewell scene between mother and son; the terrible shot and Mayno's scream, which gave horrible proof that the last of the Lowries had been killed by his own hand to escape that tragic life of the hunted—were such that, as the curtain fell, there was scarcely a dry eye in the audience.

Act I: Exterior of Greenwood in New Jersey, May 1, 1775.
Act II: Living room, Greenwood, December 24, 1776.
Act III: Parlor, Drinkwater's house, Trenton, New Jersey, Christmas Day, 1776.
Act IV: Interior, Yorktown, October 1781.

"Janice Meredith", one of the most pretentious dramas ever given at Garfield, was presented Thursday and Friday, March 15 and 16. The cast certainly reflected a great deal of credit on the director, Miss Ferguson.

Rhodes Barbarick and Estella Brewer were excellent as Squire and Mrs. Meredith respectively. Stanford Gilley really seemed to be Philemon Hennion, so skillfully did he play his part. Garwood Tucker was very good as the irascible Squire Hennion, his father. The dual role of Charles, the bondsman, and Brereton, the colonel in the American army, was skillfully enacted by Lawrence Babbitt. Marion Ferguson and Mary Emma Gossom, as Janice Meredith and Tabitha Drinkwater, caused many a masculine heart to flutter, in the audience as well as on the stage. Clarence Post showed great dramatic ability as Colonel Tahl, the Hessian officer. Lord Clowes, the villian, was effectively portrayed by Warren Everett. Black Sukey, portrayed by Audrey Douglas, provided bits of humor during the course of the play. The part of Burger, the guard and veritable shadow of Janice, was cleverly acted by John Schmidt. Harry McGurk and Ansel Shoaf, as the two British officers, Bagley and Mobray, were among the many suitors of Janice. Louis Feuquay, James Clark, Leslie Hogue, Roy Barbarick, and Warren Wedding, as soldiers, lent much atmosphere by their unexpected appearances at various moments of the play.

"MARTHA"

On April 19th and 20th the music department presented the opera "Martha." The setting was located in England. Lady Harriet, as played by Virginia Oelgeschlager, a lady of the court, grew tired of court life and decided to go to Richmond, where the maidens were being hired out to farmers for a year's services. Lady Harriet assumed the name of "Martha," and her maid, Nancy, played by Audrey Douglas, used the name of "Betsy Ann." They sold themselves to Lionel and Plunket, two farmers played by Kenneth Thurman and Horace Capps. The real birth and early life of Lionel was unknown. He had been left as a small boy at Plunket's home. The maids were taken to the farm house and proved to their taskmasters that they knew nothing about working. During the night the maids were rescued by Sir Tristian, played by Mark Steirwald, who was in love with Lady Harriet.

Some time later when the ladies of the court were riding, they were met by Plunket. He recognized his maid, Betsy Ann, and demanded that she go home with him. Nancy claimed the man was crazy, and he was arrested. As time passed, Nancy found she loved Plunket even better than her social position. The Richmond market scene was reacted for the purpose of getting Lionel back into his right mind, insanity having been caused by the refusal of Lady Harriet to marry him. He found his reason and declared his love for Lady Harriet. A ring on his finger proved him to be a son of a lord who had deserted court life. Plunket also won his Betsy Ann for his wife.

The leads were played with artistic skill of song and action. The coquettish Nancy brought many a laugh from the crowd by her clever antics, and the seemingly grouchy Plunket played the part like an accomplished artist. The chorus formed an artistic and romantic background of scene and song. The orchestra also was essential to the success of the opera. All credit is due Miss Neva Rankin who directed the entire production. Miss Kathron Silverthorn, pianist, and John Walker, violinist, accompanied all the songs.

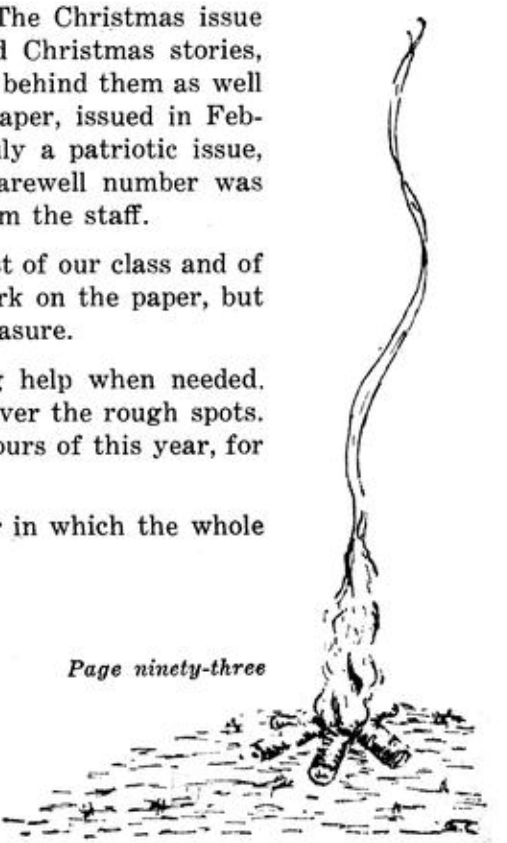
The staff for this year's paper was chosen a little differently from that of last year. Students wishing to work on the staff handed their names to Miss Froeb, the adviser for the junior class, who, working with Mr. Zimmerman, Miss Reitzel, and Mr. Jones, appointed the different members of the staff. This eliminated the old method of drafting the staff members.

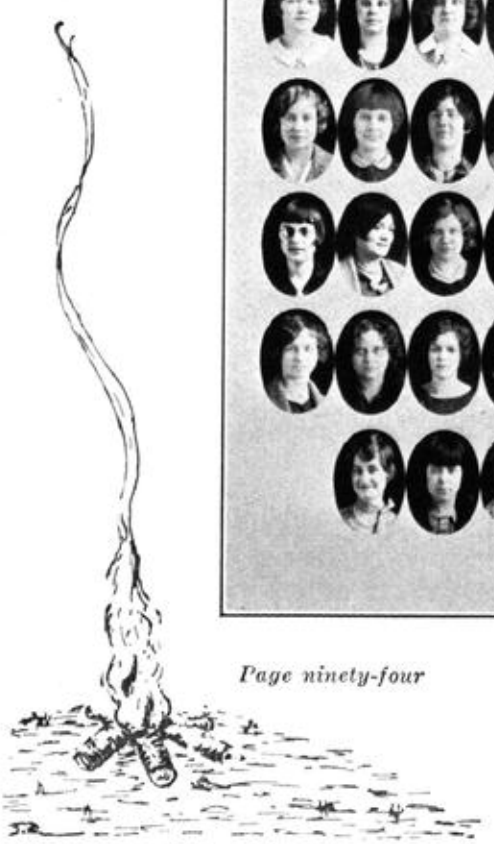
The staff put out ten issues during the year. The Christmas issue was a six page paper having Santa's letter box and Christmas stories, serious as well as funny ones, stories with a meaning behind them as well as those written for entertainment. The patriotic paper, issued in February, ran a cut of "The Spirit of '76". It was truly a patriotic issue, stressing loyalty to both nation and school. The farewell number was dedicated to seniors. It also was a farewell issue from the staff.

We've all enjoyed working together in the interest of our class and of our school. We have put in many hours of hard work on the paper, but every hour of work has given in return an hour of pleasure.

Our faculty advisers have stood by us, offering help when needed, giving a suggestion here and there, and piloting us over the rough spots. We could not wish for a staff of advisers better than ours of this year, for we could not get them.

It has indeed been a pleasure to put out a paper in which the whole school is interested.





BLUE TRIANGLE

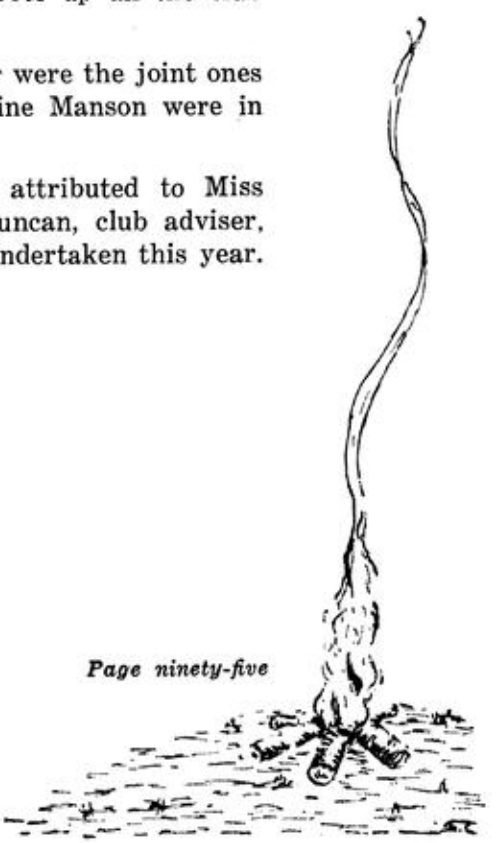
The Blue Triangle Club, under the excellent leadership of Geraldine Manson, president, Ruth Blankenbaker, vice-president, Roseanna Vallely, secretary, and Frances Kaufman, treasurer, has just completed another successful year.

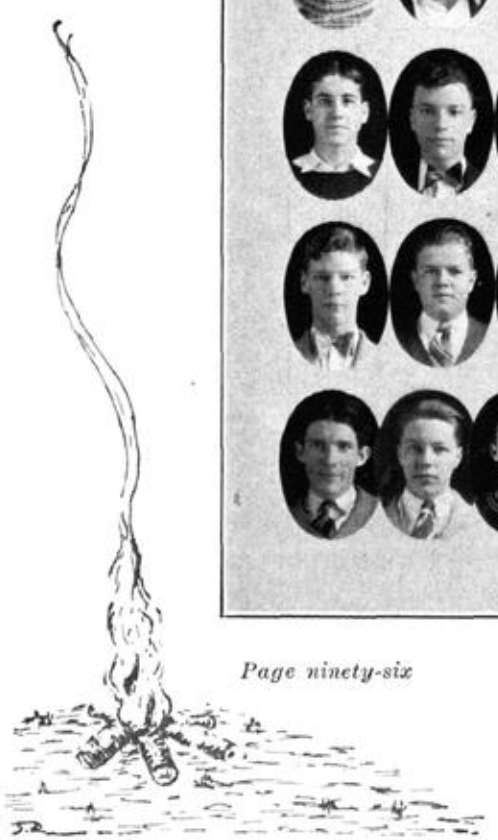
The committees into which the club is divided were headed by very capable girls. Margaret Modesitt, chairman of the social committee, planned many social events for the club. Four delightful dances were the most outstanding of these. The initiation and recognition services could never have succeeded as they did without the direction of Hermine Wood, chairman of the membership committee. The clever and original programs for the year were provided by the program committee, headed by Janet Swearingen and Miss Ferguson. Mary Fritts, chairman of the body, mind, and spirit committee, had charge of the devotions for the meetings. Music was furnished by Lois Harmon, assisted by Miss Rankin. Of course the activities of the Blue Triangle organization are not confined to amusement alone. The service committee, directed by Marjorie Spangler and Miss Payton, is to be commended for the many good works it has performed. The money problem was given over to Helen Muench, chairman of the ways and means committee.

Many attractive posters for the dance, parties, and meetings were made by Hope Randall. Kathryn Weinbrecht and Harriet Royer were sergeants-at-arms for the year. Lois Bilderback wrote up all the club events for the newspapers of the city.

Two of the most interesting meetings of the year were the joint ones of Blue Triangle and Hi-Y. Fred Shea and Geraldine Manson were in charge of them.

Much of the club's success this year must be attributed to Miss Maehley, Girl Reserve secretary, and Miss Nelle Duncan, club adviser, who have given their assistance in all the club has undertaken this year.





HI-Y

The Garfield Hi-Y has had a most successful year. Dances, motor and camping trips, and hikes constituted the year's activities. Fred Shea was elected president; he has been one of the most enthusiastic members which the club has had in years. Durward McCrocklin was chosen vice-president. He had charge of all entertainments, and he proved himself a capable manager. Walter Tormohlen as secretary-treasurer served efficiently.

Among the social events of the year were the masked ball and the May dance. The trip to Cataract Falls was made by a number of the boys. Indiana University and Depauw were visited on the return trip. The Garfield Hi-Y was represented at the convention of group leaders at Bloomington by Fred Shea, Walter Tormohlen, and William Nichols. This was the largest delegation sent by any city in the state. The joint meetings of the Hi-Y and Blue Triangle clubs were greatly enjoyed by both boys and girls.

ELECTION

The campaign which lasted nearly a week was an especially picturesque one, featuring a tremendous contest. The installation of officers followed the counting of the ballots.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

This was given by the officers in the girls' gym. A program, Roman games, and an oracle were the diversions of the evening.

S. P. Q. R. PINS

We now have a standard club pin. It is sketched above. Our flower is the violet, and our colors are gold and purple.

THE CHARIOT

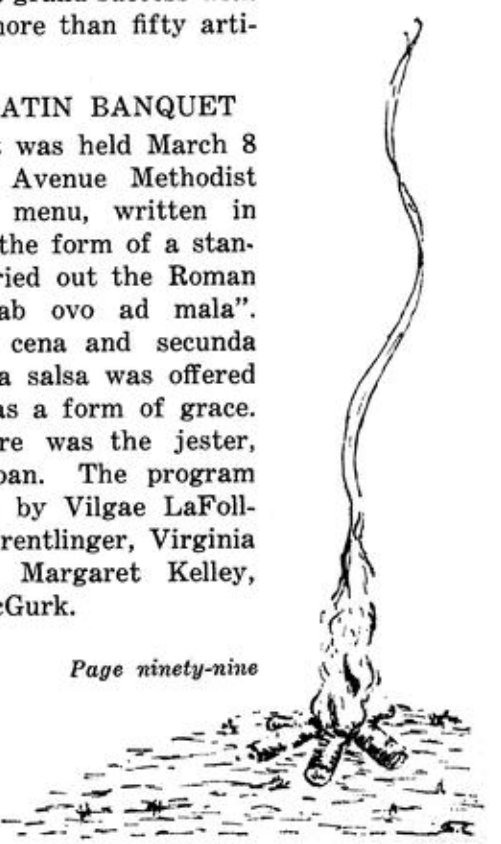
A chariot was built and decorated in purple and white for the "Turkey-Day Game" parade.

EXHIBITION

For the first time in the history of the club, the advisers and members sponsored a Roman exhibition. It was a grand success with a display of more than fifty articles.

ANNUAL LATIN BANQUET

This year it was held March 8 at the Maple Avenue Methodist Church. The menu, written in Latin, was in the form of a standard, and carried out the Roman expressions "ab ovo ad mala". Between the cena and secunda menu the mola salsa was offered to the Lares as a form of grace. Another feature was the jester, Elizabeth Serban. The program was furnished by Vilgae LaFollette, Gladys Brentlinger, Virginia Oelgeschlager, Margaret Kelley, and Harry McGurk.



DRAMATIC CLUB

President ..... Marion Ferguson
Vice-President ..... Rhodes Barbarick
Secretary ..... Ruth Blankenbaker
Treasurer ..... Audrey Douglas

The Garfield Players started off with a "bang" this year under the leadership of our new dramatic director, Miss Mary Jewel Ferguson.

The purpose of our club is to show students the different kinds of drama and to teach them stage business. We hold our meetings every Friday evening in the auditorium. A one or two act play is presented at each meeting. Every member of the club, at some time during the school year, gets a part in one of the plays. If the student shows ability, he is eligible for the big production of the year. In this way we find our talent.

Our first meeting this year was held September 23, 1927. We presented the one act play, "Heirs at Law", a very clever comedy. We found that our club had grown to about seventy in number. For our next meeting, thirty of our new members presented a miscellaneous program. We found that we had a new supply of talent and ability.

At our first meeting in November we showed our loyalty to Garfield by planning a float for the Garfield Thanksgiving parade. Every member of the club worked on this float and credit is due all. Although our float was not the best in the parade, we felt that we did our bit, and we are proud of our efforts.

After Thanksgiving, rehearsals were begun on the play we entered in the Indiana Little Theater tournament. This was held December 16th and 17th at the Little Theater in Indianapolis. Our play was presented Saturday afternoon. The cast journeyed home Sunday, bringing back to their school a silver loving cup, showing that they had won first place in the tournament. Ruth Martin was awarded a book of essays for the best acting done by any girl.

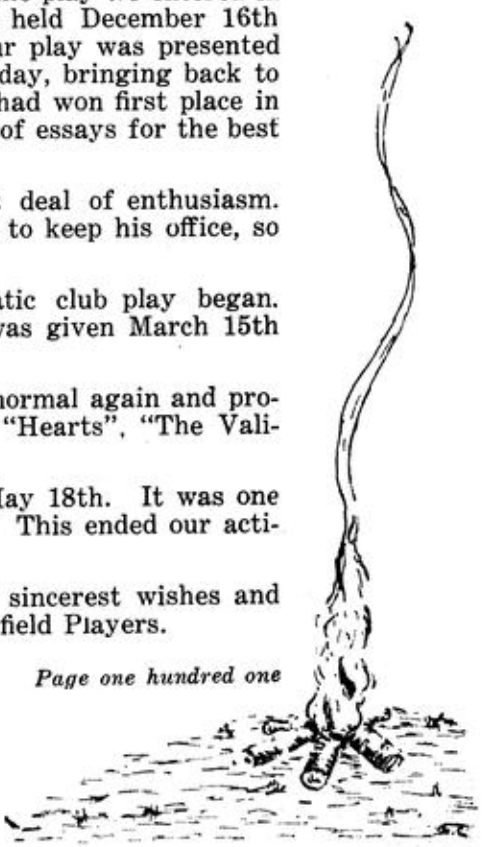
The new school term was begun with a great deal of enthusiasm. Our treasurer, Warren Everett, found it impossible to keep his office, so we elected Audrey Douglas in his place.

In February, rehearsals for our annual dramatic club play began. The play presented was "Janice Meredith" which was given March 15th and 16th.

After this production our club settled back to normal again and produced a series of one-act plays including "Sham", "Hearts", "The Valiant", and "The Unseen."

Our annual dramatic club banquet was given May 18th. It was one of the most successful banquets we have ever had. This ended our activities for the year.

The senior members of the club express their sincerest wishes and hopes for a successful year during 1929 for the Garfield Players.



THE GARFIELD BUSINESS CLUB

President ..... Harriet Russell
Vice-President ..... Cleo Morris
Secretary-Treasurer ..... Abigail Griffith
Faculty Sponsor ..... Minnie B. Lammers

An enthusiastic group of students attended the first meeting of the Business Club in September. At this time plans were made for electing officers and appointing committees.

Three lively committees have helped carry on the work. The program committee, under the leadership of Cleo Morris, found much talent among the members and prepared an interesting program for each meeting. A mock trial was one attractive feature. The financial committee, led by Abigail Griffith, has taken charge of the financial end. This year they even succeeded in putting a float into the Thanksgiving parade. The publicity committee, with Mildred Nickel as chairman, has been kept very busy advertising the many activities of the club.

The plan this year has been to hold a regular business meeting on the third Thursday of each month and to take a trip between business meetings.

A paper sale has been the chief method used for raising funds to carry on the work. No membership fee is charged.

Any commercial student interested in the club may join at any of the meetings. The membership is now over one hundred students. Both students and teachers of the commercial department have much enthusiasm in the many activities of the club.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

The Garfield Parent-Teacher Association is closing one of the most successful years in its history. No little share of this unusual success is due to the splendid and untiring efforts of the officers, John Swander, president, Nelle Duncan, vice-president, Mrs. H. L. Connerley, secretary, and E. E. Hylton, treasurer. However, the parents and teachers, as a whole, have supported the officers of the club in their program for the year.

The executive committee, composed of the officers and the chairmen of the various committees, decided early in the school year to make the meeting each month really worth while. To say they have carried this idea out is putting it mildly. Some of the best speakers and entertainers in the city have been on the regular programs each meeting night. This has resulted in a much better attendance at the meetings than has been customary in the past.

By far the most constructive and far-reaching piece of work done by the association during the past year was the establishment of a student loan fund. This fund is for the purpose of lending money to worthy students and graduates of Garfield to allow them to continue their education. This money is lent at a very low rate of interest and is a self-perpetuating fund. The association held a fair early in December and realized approximately $300.00 for the loan fund. This is certainly a fine beginning around which to build a strong fund.

CLASS WILL

STATE OF INDIANA
COUNTY OF VIGO
CITY OF TERRE HAUTE

We, the class of nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, realizing that we have but a short time to linger within the sacred portals of Garfield High School, hereby declare this to be our last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I.

We will and bequeath—

To the school: The numerous trophies we have been lucky enough to win.

To the faculty: An abundant supply of "hankies" with which to dry their tears upon our departure.

ARTICLE II.

We will and bequeath—

To the juniors: The privilege of bearing the ancient and honorable name of SENIOR.

To the sophs: A challenge—Just try to put out a better "Royal Purple" than we did!

To the freshies: One ton of "PEP."

ARTICLE III.

We will and bequeath—

1. To Mr. Zimmerman, a pair of stilts so that he can at least tower over "Jake."
2. To Roy Barbarick, Rhodes' dramatic ability.
3. To Helen Strong, continued success in popularity contests.
4. To Mr. Clogston, a new supply of jokes.
5. To "The Four Horsemen," the position of "The Three Musketeers" in the lower hall.
6. To John Schmidt, the editorship of the 1929 "Benny."
7. To Miss Schwedes, some nice little girls such as she has so long desired.
8. To Madonna O'Rear, some other sheik to take the place of Warren.
9. To Ansel Shoaf, a big part in the next dramatic club play.
10. To Harriett Van Orman, position as wardrobe mistress to Mary Pickford.
11. To Mrs. Sankey, one set of perfect English papers.

12. To Maxine Reed and Dixie Frazier, great success in the next Point System production.

13. To Don Gossom, Mary Emma's place in the hearts of the "Garfielders."

14. To Miss Oakey, another French class like her first period one.

15. To Mavourneen Stewart and Helen McCollum, the place of "Jerry" and Hermine in the hearts of the sheiks of the lower hall.

16. To Kathyrn Evans and Wayne Thompson, all the jokes formerly flung at Bill and Hermine.

17. To Miss Ageng, our appreciation for her splendid work as class adviser.

18. To Bobby Gilley and Johnnie Walker, some long-desired dates with Harriett Van Orman.

19. To Florence Reinhard, a "date" for every Hi-Y dance.

20. To Cleo Morris, a vow from Rhodes that he will at least write to her.

21. To Miss Malone, a handsome sheik to rescue her from the drudgery of teaching.

22. To Janet Swearingen, Jerry Manson's place as president of the Blue-Tri.

23. To Vashti McCrocklin, a sweet farewell from Walter.

24. To Max Streacher, the sincere hope that he will graduate with the class of '29.

25. To "Pike" and "Jim", good material for athletic games.

26. To Elizabeth Serban, a book on "How to Be Serious."

27. To Miss Leisey, many successes as great as "Hello Betsy."

28. To Paul Bartholome, his brother Carl's reputation as a student.

29. To James Richardson, some new inspirations for making the "kids" yell louder.

30. To Wilma Richardson, the best of health and a promise of a 1929 diploma.

31. To Mr. Heath, a little goatee to match his mustache.

32. To Kenneth Thurman, an honorable position on the "Benny" staff.

33. To Miss Rankin, an introduction to all the city "cops" as a safeguard against future arrests.

34. To Ruth Blankenbaker and Virginia Oelgeschlager, a reserved place in the National Honor Society.

Sworn to before me, A. Pill, this first day of April in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight.

5—Miss Reitzel, Miss Rankin and three senior girls went for a ride in the moon. Whose "Moon"?

6—Garfield seems decidedly dead. Perhaps it is the fault of the rain.

7—Riley Day assembly. Claude Thornhill once more makes the halls echo with real music.

10—Blue Tri initiation! New girls swear not to wear silk dresses and give up their "dates" to any old girl who wants them.

11—Blue ribbon day. New Blue Tri girls are on hinges so they can bow.

12—Senior girls' meeting. Officers are: Laura Tribble, Louise Boling, and Bonnie Frazier.

13—"Benny" Staff meeting! Resolved: A bigger and better "Benny." Business Club meeting was held.

14—The cast of the senior play is leaking out drop by drop.

15—Garfield wallops Tech 19-0. Report comes back that Anderson is making good at Chicago University.

17—Blue Tri formal initiation at Y. W. C. A. Who loves Blue Tri? We do!

18—About 30 people seem rather worn after the fourth hour.

19—Could the towpath affect a botany class?

19—Where's the old spirit? It was in evidence at the pep meeting! Blazers! Sweaters! Yea! Rah! Seniors!

20-21—Vacation.

22—Garfield beaten by Clinton 7-0. Come on, gang! Now go!

24—Miss Harris teaches Bill Nichols to "sit". "Pride goeth before a fall", you know, Billy.

25—Lights go out and the "Goose Hangs High" at rehearsal.

26—Red Letter Day. "Shut yo' mouff!" Senior clubs are C. A. T. S. and D. O. G. S. Get busy, underclassmen. What do they mean?

27—Latin club party. How (or where) was the hard cider?

28—Dramatic Club presents "Miss Bugbee's Bee".

31—Mrs. Bedford gives Blue Tri an inspiring talk on "Ideal Girl".

NOVEMBER

1—Senior meeting. Monograms C. A. T. S. and D. O. G. S. were decided upon.

2—Miss Rankin pleads for attention in glee club. "Will every eye remain on me?" she asks with demanding sweetness.

3—Not much work being done. Seniors are preparing for the homecoming.

4—The old grads come back once again and the halls ring with echoes of fun of other classes. Homecoming!

5—Garfield plays the Homecoming game with Robinson and wins 19-6.

7—Blue Tri plans for the Leather Ball to be given in November.

8—Senior meeting! Class chooses rose and silver as class colors, and the rose as a flower.

9—Seniors have "movies" in English VII. classes. Mrs. Sankey invited the class to "think on these things."

10—The class of '28 presents "The Goose Hangs High." The play was a great success and was attended by a crowd.

11—School is dismissed at noon so that Garfield could see the Wiley-Tech game. Wiley won 7-0. Second night of the senior play.

13—Blue Tri holds the annual "Go to Church" services at First Congregational Church.

14—C. A. T. S. are in charge of a large Booster Club meeting. Hoosier Melody Boys were featured.

15—Garfield Business Club went on a trip to Ermisch's. Twenty members went and had a lovely time.

16—Clogston tells his civics class that he is going to skip around the class. They second the motion.

17—"Benny" staff meeting. General hullabaloo over the photographer for senior pictures.

18—Music department presents the fall concert. The Garfield mixed quartet made first appearance. Bobby Gilley is featured.

21—Mrs. White talks on "The Mind of the Ideal Girl" at Blue Tri meeting. One of the peppiest of pep meetings was staged and the Bon Fire Flamed High.

22—Parade Night. Juniors won first prize for float and seniors came in with second.

23—G. H. S. turns out full force at the Indiana. Polar Bear! The Spirit of 7-6 was portrayed.

24—Thanksgiving Day. The Spirit of 7-6 was prevalent, but the score stood 0-0.

25—Blue Tri Leather Ball at the Eagles Hall.

28—School has grown dull after a week of hilarity. Dismissed at noon to hear U. S. Navy Band.

29—Miss Moudy has a new student in her art class. A dog (not D. O. G.).

30—First snow of the season. Miss Schwedes finds herself becoming popular. Her office overflows with callers.

DECEMBER

1—Ruth Crossley gives a unique recitation on consumption. "Man engages in production so that he may more easily develop consumption."

2—Parent-teachers fair! Were the students a back number? No, they paid the price.

3—Second night of the parent-teachers' fair. Boys' quartet was the feature of the evening.

5—Blue Triangle meeting! A very interesting talk on "The Health of the Ideal Girl" was given by Rachel Mathieu.

6—Mr. Zimmerman looks relieved. He has decided on the color for his new suit.

7—It doesn't seem anything will ever happen. Garfield, where's your pep?

8—Still no excitement.

9—Dramatic Club holds a miscellaneous program in charge of Joseph Pfeister.

12—Blue Triangle holds a business meeting to discuss the Xmas dance and the Xmas charity work.

13—Senior meeting! Nothing unusual happens except that Miss Ageng tells seniors to get busy and give a push.

15—Business Club Xmas meeting. Interesting debate between Alice Murphy and Frank Armstrong, positive; and Mildred Arthur and Durward McCrocklin, negative; on "Christmas is not losing its spirit through commercialization."

16—Music department holds vesper service, featuring the girls' sextette and the mixed quartet. Garfield Players go to Indianapolis to present "The Last of the Lowries."

19—Blue Triangle religious meeting. Beautiful tableaux make the carols impressive.

22—Dramatic Club has a Xmas party. Harriet Van Orman was Santa Claus. "Royal Purple" issue appears.

23—Xmas play is presented. Seniors' Xmas party is held. Blue Triangle "Crystal Ball" held at Deming ballroom. Garfield beats Concannon 15-23.

30—Wiley-Garfield game. 'Nuf said.

JANUARY

3—Vacation has an ill effect. Spectators in lower hall decide that Forrest Simpcoe is becoming cold. Ask Zula Mae. The "Benny" Staff meets to put over the senior drive.

4—Senior "Benny" drive started. Mr. Ewers shows that girls' sextette "a little birdie." Did the little birdie frighten them?

5—"Benny" drive goes over the top. Senior English class reads a play in class.

6—Assembly! Garfield receives city athletic trophy and the Little Theatre contest trophy. Billy Nichols is awarded cup for most valuable football player.

9—Blue Triangle holds carnival in lower hall. Popularity contest 'n everything.

10—Seniors hold a meeting and stage a big argument over mid year dance and such for hall orchestra, etc.

11—The S. O. D. was organized. It is rumored that this secret so-

2—"Benny" meeting to plan a "Benny" assembly. Gladys Cox is chairman.

3—"Valentine Ball" given by the senior class at the K. of P. Hall. Bud Cromwell's orchestra furnished excellent music.

6—It was said that Paul Calvert heard Mr. Clogston say that Jim Conover told Miss Doty that he was going to die if he didn't get some excitement. We'll have some excitement when we have the funeral.

7—Assembly for boys! A very interesting lecture was given on "The Young Men of Today."

8—We wonder if Miss Harris doesn't miss that "Pesky Botany Class" she had last year. We'll wager that there'll be more rungs on the chairs at the end of this season.

9—Is the school gone mad over square area graphs? Oh no! Only Mr. Clogston's classes. 'Nother "Benny" Staff meeting.

10—Practice for "Benny" assembly. The Dramatic Club presents the "Ghost Story."

13—Yea! Raw! Clogston has a new dark suit. Assembly lecture on Prohibition. Blue Triangle has a sing-song meeting.

14—Valentine Day! All cases in the halls think it is a day solely for them.

15—"Benny" Assembly!

16-17—Same old grind.

20—"Benny" campaign in full force; signs, posters, yells, 'n everything.

21—Senior meeting to decide on invitations and cards.

22—Washington assembly. Oh! what pep. Garfield has a new sheik, Walt Tormohlen.

23—Blue Tri recognition service.

24—Nothin' but a snow fight on the campus.

27—"Benny" parade. Music gang is entertained with a "concert."

29—Leap Year Day. 'Nother "Benny" meeting.

MARCH

1—Mr. Clogston resorts to reading hands. His title will be—"He who gets slapped."

2—School is dismissed at noon because of the semi-finals for basketball. Garfield beats Riley 20-16, and beats Otter Creek 18-11. Yea, Team!

3—Garfield goes to sectional meet by beating West Terre Haute 21-4 and Tech 23-16.

5—Blue Triangle-Hi-Y holds a snappy joint meeting. Reverend Dr. Tyler gives a forceful talk on "Your Life Work."

6—Senior meeting. Mr. Clogston talks to seniors about cards.

7—Red letter day again! Reports appear. Students hop classes to see a neighboring fire.
